MAPLE MEADOW SCHOOL MOTHERS CLUB PROTESTS

A feature of the meeting of the PTA, last night was an organized protest, on the part of twenty nine ladies, all with children in the Maple Meadow School, concerning conditions in that school.

The protest, which was read by Mrs. Bernice Butler, president of the newly formed club, is to be presented to the Superintendent of Schools, and to the School Committee. Mrs. Butler had to present the protest to the PTA first, because this is the only business meeting of the PTA in some time.

The following points were brought out.

1. In a room 26½ by 19½ with a 9½ foot ceiling, there are 49 students composing grades 1 and 2. In the other room, same size there are 39 pupils in grades 3 and 4.

2. There are no screens, and because of this, and the low ceiling, and the fact that the school is in the woods, the flies crawl all over the hands, faces, and desks of the pupils.

3. The toilets open directly off the entrance and the coat hall, and there is no deflecting screen so that a child entering or leaving the toilets exposes all the others to any one in the coat room, entering the door, or even in the street in front of the building.

4. The inside of the school has not been painted in 10 years.

5. The school once parted in the middle, and had to be bolstered and is now sinking on the other side, so that there are doors which cannot be closed.

6. The porch is pulling away from the building.

7. The drinking fountains are on the back of the same wall as the toilets, so no water is available for drinking, while toilets are being used.

8. There is a pile of fill, in back of the school, which has been there since June, and the Town cannot spare a bulldozer for half a day in order to level it off.

9. In the winter it is often so cold that the children have to keep on their leggings and their coats.

10. The teacher has to fire the furnace herself during the day.

11. The windows are directly over the largest blackboard area, so that the pupils look directly into the light, while trying to see the blackboard.

12. The seats are so close together that the children cannot stretch their legs.

13. The hooks in the coat room are so close together that in order to have enough room to hang their coats on the bottom row first, then the next row, and then the top row, and when they go home they have to reverse this process, or all 88 garments would be on the floor in a tumbled mess.

Mrs. Butler finished her statement by pointing out that this section of town is having several new developments, and that they felt that the PTA should help this area get a new enlarged school. "We need the school," Mrs. Butler said. "The Town needs the school. Now is the time to start it, while State aid is available. This aid stops in 1953."

Election of officers was held, with the following going into office: President, Cedric Mader; Vice-President, Donald Everett; Secretary-Treasurer, Robert Curtis; Publicity Manager, Irving Appleby; Board of Executives, Rev. Herbert Jerauld, Norman LeClerc, Willis Tibbets and Elbion Metcalf.

WILMINGTON'S FIRST AND LAST DEFEAT

Saturday, the Wilmington High squad suffered its first defeat to Dracut. The final result was 32-7. Albert Ethier through a pass to Francis Hoban, who scored the touchdown. The point was brought across the goal line by Ray Clifford. Before the touchdown, W. Draper pushed 25 yards bringing the ball to the 16 yard line. Twice Greg Hokey recovered the ball for Wilmington. With all these exceptional plays the team was unable to beat Dracut. Next week the team play Johnson at Johnson. The cheerleaders held a very successful dance in the cafeteria Saturday night. Can the team count on your support next week?

Many gifts are arriving daily at the Fireside Gift Shoppe, 438 Main St., Woburn, such as Brass Lamps for Table, Desk and Piano, Boudoir Crystal Sticks and all colors in light in Base lamps you've been waiting for.

A BEAUTIFUL RUG EXHIBIT

Wilmington residents who visited the rug exhibit, in the vestry of the Congregational Church were pleasantly surprised at the quality and size of the exhibit.

Over 50 rugs, all made by pupils of Ruth Thorpe of Ballardvale Street, were exhibited.

The largest rug, about five feet by seven feet, was in a Persian Oriental pattern, very well done, by Mrs. Hilda Buck, who was also exhibiting a small rug, with Moscow Duck motif, made for her grandson. A rug, with a New England Winter Scene, made by Mrs. Ethel Williams of Andover Road attracted attention. Mrs. Williams had first painted the same picture on canvas, and then had made the rug using the painting as a guide.

A rug with sentiment, is the description of one made by Mrs. Allgrove. The rug, attractively colored, was made of shawls and other items used by Mrs. Allgrove's mother, Mrs. Arthur Eames, her aunt, Mrs. Edward Lunt of West Medford, and her grandmother, Mrs. N. Bradley Eames. The wedding blankets of Mrs. Bradley Eames were used to provide the light cream color in the rug.

Another unusual rug was one made by Mrs. Maude Richardson, who lives in the old Colonial estate on Woburn Street, which was the home, in days gone by, of Mrs. Bradley Eames. Mrs. Richardson had made a stair rug for this home, and, in order to fit the old Colonial stairway, it was necessary to make the sectional pieces for each step of different size. The pattern was provided by leafs of nearby trees.

There was another rug which caught your reporter's eye, a rug showing the Three Bears of nursery rhymes. Mrs. Berkmaier, of North Reading had made the rug, and the lady had deviated, for reasons of her own, from the customary story, because the bears were carrying their bowls of porridge out into the open, to cool them off!

Many other colorful rugs were there. We noticed one by Mrs. Viola McMahon, which was quite colorful.

The best reporting we can give of the event was a remark we heard by one sightseeing lady "Why, this is a better rug exhibit than we saw at the Topsfield Fair!"

CONDUCT MONTHLY MEETING

The Catholic Daughters, Court St. Thomas of Villanova held their regular monthly meeting in the parish hall last Monday evening with Grand Regent, Mrs. Mae Welling presiding. Chaplain, Father Albert Shea, was on hand to continue his very enlightening talk on the various phases of the Catholic religion.

His topic for discussion Monday evening was the altar Cards and their spiritual and practical meaning.

Mrs. May Quandt, the chairman of the court's annual banquet, gave her report. The banquet will be held at the parish hall on Tuesday evening, October 23. Knute's orchestra has been hired for dancing.

A State court reception is planned for incoming members, whose applications have been accepted by their local chapters, on October 21 at the Bradford hotel. For reservations, members may contact their Grand Regent as soon as possible.

The Court voted to hold a combined rummage and food sale, in the near future, definite plans to be announced later.

A most impressive demonstration was conducted by Mrs. Mary Bell, food demonstration agent from the Middlesex County Extension Service in Cambridge. Her subject was the history of sandwich making, the most timely subject, "The school lunch box".

Refreshments were served by Gertrude Murray and her committee.

BANQUET OCTOBER 23

Plans are well advanced for the Court Saint Thomas, C. D. A., annual banquet to be held on Tuesday evening, October 23rd, at the parish hall.

General chairman, Mrs. Mae Quandt has invited Rev. McNamara, director of the Catholic Boys' Guidance Center in Boston to be principal speaker. Also included on the guest list are State Regent, Miss Catherine Dwyer and District Deputy, Miss Elizabeth Kenny.

LOTTERIES

The March of Dimes Committee in Wilmington used to raise a substantial sum, entirely for charitable purposes, every year through what is known as a "Penny Sale".

The Wilmington Rotary Park Inc., a 100% charitable organization, used the same method to raise money for a children's playground.

Both of these organizations, who demonstrated nothing but kindness and charity have been stymied because of the laws regarding gambling.

At the same time, a weekly lottery, with a $500 prize, is operating in the northern part of Middlesex County. The Post Office Department has ruled that this is a lottery. There are no pretenses of charitable purposes. It is an out and out lottery. You might win, if you buy your ticket for 15 cents.

All you need is 100 per cent brass and nerve.

A MOST BEAUTIFUL FALL SEASON

The Norway and Sugar Maples of Church Street, Middlesex Avenue, and Wildwood Cemetery are a riot of golden orange this year. Off to the side, one sees the russett red of the Swamp Maple, and on occasions, the deeper red of the Sumac.

There is something quieting in the awesome hush of autumn, something nostalgic, even. It is a time for remembering.

Wilmington has not had an autumn such as the present one for many years past. The chromatic panorama of our highways and byways was never better. The nature lover, and the office worker too, can each day drink in a different scene of beauty, even though he sees but one small part of our town. No two days have been alike, and each of the swiftly fleeting, splendid days has been a brilliant mass of color.

Have you seen the deep brown red, and the scarlet orange of the oaks on Andover Road? Or those on Chestnut Street? Have you seen the blood orange and vermillion of the Sassafras trees off Glen Road? The Sycamores, down by Mill Brook have a pale yellow, which is soon to turn brown.

This Fall the intensity of colors is particularly high. Our late frost is responsible. Severe frosts, too early, destroy the colors of the leaves, and they too soon turn to a dull uninteresting brown. A sunny September, such as we have just had, without any major frosts, with just enough rainfall is what is needed to insure a colorful October.

This Autumn, even in these days of preoccupation, is one for pleasant contemplation. It is time too, for reflection, for reminiscing on the days that used to be, and for looking forward for the better days to come.

TRICK OR TREAT

As we recall it, this phrase first came to our ears shortly after we came home from the war. Groups of youngsters, almost gangsters, had a phrase which we didn't like then, and which we still don't like today. It was and is part of the Halloween celebration.

The phrase, of course, is "Trick or Treat!" The threat, and it is a real one, of maliciously damaging property, if some type of ransom isn't immediately forthcoming, is inherent in this phrase.

A group of youngsters, ranging from nine years in age, up, will roam up and down our highways and byways, collecting booty from every household. Paper bags, and, in some cases, pillow sacks, are carried in which to carry the booty.

There are those who smile benignly, and see in this nothing but the spirit of good clean fun. There are others who see in it nothing but gangsterism, a "get it for nothing" philosophy. The truth is probably somewhere in between these two extremes.

We trust and hope that the parents of Wilmington will exercise an effort to control the depredations of their youngsters this Halloween. Good clean fun, which is what is supposed to be typified by Halloween, can too quickly degenerate into a travesty of modern civilization.

There are ways and means of having good clean fun on Halloween. Let the parents of Wilmington do their part and the threat in that phase will be removed.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

The Crusader, last week, carried a report of the meeting of the group which is trying to form a youth center in Wilmington. There was one particular portion of that report which has struck your editor most forcibly, and we repeat it in our editorial column.

We refer to the short speech of Mrs. Susan Esler.

"People say we have a Juvenile Delinquency problem!"

Do you agree with Mrs. Esler-

● TOWN NOTES ●

RAINFALL

This week's report from the Wilmington Weather Works makes up for a few of the drier weeks past. A total of 2.57 inches, no less, was our rainfall for the week ending October 14th, 8 a.m. On the 7th we had 1.85 inches of rain, on the 8th, .01, and then, again on the 11th we had .71 inches. We shall have to hurry over and see how Silver Lake looks now.

MELONS

A few weeks ago we noted that only one man in Wilmington seemed to have grown any melons this year. Now we have had word from Jerry Hale, down on Glen Road. It seems that he grew some delicious melons, right in his back yard. He went on, a little further, and jestingly called us a "d..... dumb Swede". We resent that word Swede.

REAL ESTATE EXPANSION

Wilmington has had quite a few homes built here, in the last few years. Up to the last of August, this year, the sum total for the year was over the $500,000 mark, if our informant's figures are correctly remembered. Last week the TM told the Selectmen that a firm which was building houses in Reading are going to transfer their operations to Wilmington, with the building of 10 houses on Marion Street. According to our information, the reason for the transference of scene, on the part of this firm, was dissatisfaction with the type of real estate appraisal in Reading. A member of the firm is quoted as saying that Wilmington gives a better deal, in appraisals, than does Reading.

LIFE MAGAZINE

In the last issue of LIFE, there was a picture of the Ipswich River, on a frosty morning, in Middleton. We had always wondered where it went, and what it looked like, after it has passed Jenkin's Bridge, in East Wilmington. Now we know. It is still swampy, even in Middleton!

QUITE A RUSH

The management of the Wilmington Theatre had, on the back of the folders which they give away, advertising the shows to come, a coupon which entitle the bearer to get in, on Monday, Wednesday or Thursday, for a ridiculously small sum. The people of Wilmington seem to have discovered this, because every store which had these folders to give away promptly ran out of them. We have even heard reports of some youngsters trying to develop a trade in them. Could it be a black market?

NO RUBBER BOOTS NEEDED

The residents of Forest Avenue have told your editor that they believe they will be able to throw away their rubber boots now. The town has just installed two lights, on the street, and they now have enough light to enable them to duck the puddles.

We understand that the TM has stated that this street is soon due for some gravel.

SELLING CLOTH BY THE YARD

We noticed something the other day that, we believe, had not happened in Wilmington for years. Weinberg's store is selling cloth, for dressmaking and other purposes, by the yard.

In the old days, of course, the local stores sold cloth in this manner, and in the city of Boston, this type of sale has never stopped, but this is the first time we have

WEEK-END

Wasn't that a glorious week-end, full moon and all?

TANNERY PETITION

The petition, of which we have spoken in the past, concerning odors at a local tannery has, we are reliably informed, about 500 names on its roll. The group in charge of this petition are planning action in the very near future.

THAT GREAT BIG GLASS ON THE TOWN HALL

Some of our local friends have noticed that there is change on the front of the Town Hall. During the past week, the front door nearest to Wildwood Street has been converted into a bulletin board. The bottom half has been closed off, and the top half is now a big piece of plate glass, with boards backing it up. It will make a very nice weatherproof bulletin board, when it is finished.

Incidentally, the floors which remained, after the main floor was resurfaced, are now in the last process of being refinished themselves. Mr. Swenson, of Adams Street has spent a good many evenings in the Town Hall, scraping, shellacking and varnishing.

The other front door, we believe, is shortly to become the main entrance to the Town Hall.

THAT ROCKY MIDDLESEX AVENUE

It didn't take very long to correct the trouble, on Middlesex Ave. near St. Thomas Church. The road was refinished, for a second time, and is now in excellent condition.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

Wilmington schools are at an all record high. 1607 pupils!

CUB SCOUTS

Ed Curtis of Andover Road has taken over the leadership of the Cub Scouts in Wilmington, and several of the newer citizens in Wilmington have volunteered to help him. We are always happy to see our fellow citizens endeavour to help our town's youth. We congratulate Mr. Curtis, and hope that he is successful in getting still more of Wilmington's newcomers in his important work.

Father Shea has kindly loaned the use of Villanova Hall for the first Cub pack meeting, which is scheduled for October 29th.

FREE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR WILMINGTON SERVICEMEN

The Wilmington Crusader, and the Wilmington Post, 136, of the American Legion have made an agreement which, they hope, will provide every serviceman from Wilmington with his weekly copy of his home town news. Both organizations have been concerned with the fact that it is a difficult thing to send all the news to the boys in the ranks from the old home town, and they feel that a subscription to Wilmington's newspaper should help to keep the boys in touch with home.

The American Legion, Wilmington Post is paying for these subscriptions, which the Crusader is selling to them at a reduced price.

Here's your chance, Mothers Dads, Sweethearts and Wives! All you have to do is to send the name and address of Your Man in The Service to Arthur Harper, American Legion Post 136, Wilmington, Mass., and the American Legion will do the rest. A Penny Post Card will do the trick. The reduced subscription rate is not available except to the American Legion.

SAFETY RECORD

The employees of the Birds Eye Division, General Foods Corporation plant in Woburn, celebrated a Safety Anniversary Party at the Red Hill Country Club on Monday, September 17, in recognition of their splendid safety record which has reached 2 years without a Lost Time Accident. The plant and office were closed on this day between 11 A.M. and 6 P.M. in order that all employees could be present at this affair.

A catered dinner was served to all of the employees upon their arrival at the Country Club. Messages of congratulations were extended to the group by Mr. T. A. Sylvester, Operation Manager, Mr. S. L. Feener, Plant Manager, and Mr. G. B. Field, Seafoods Production Operation Personnel Manager for a safety job well done along with a wish that this fine record will continue for years to come.

Immediately after dinner a moving picture was presented that effectively pointed out the importance of safety to each and everyone, and how necessary it is to think before we act regardless of what we are doing, so that our actions, whatever they may be, will not result in injury to either ourselves or those near by.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in various forms of entertainment which included playing the 9 hole golf course, using the driving range, engaging in games of volley ball and horse shoes, and the latter part of the afternoon was devoted to dancing.

The employees of our plant are proud of the achievement of having worked at their individual jobs for the past 2 years without anyone suffering a Lost Time Accident. As most of these employees and their families are residents of this area, this record should be of interest to the community.

Father O'Keefe first described his work at Campion Hall, a work which has proved an inspiration to 55 men in Retreat, at Campion Hall, a measure of the work being done there.

The subject of Father O'Keefe's address was "The Development of the Church", a description of the history of the Church, through the early ages to the present day. "Today," said Father O'Keefe, "We may be witnessing the turning of the tide, as the world turns again to the Church."

The Holy Name Society has decided to have the second Sunday of each month "Holy Name Sunday", with regular meetings after the 8:30 mass. A guest speaker is planned for each of these meetings.

New trim brim hats are the number one choice with men for dress-up occasions. (Left) Homburg (right) new narrower brim, featuring tapered crown and center crease. Gives older men a more youthful look; gives young men a hat whose smaller proportions ideally suit them.

Now that we're celebrating National Hat Week, take a tip from the ladies and treat yourself to a new hat, mister. If it's just the right one for you, you'll know the pleasure of that "new hat feeling." You'll see just how much a new hat can do for your appearance as well as enjoy the refreshing confidence the ladies, bless 'em, feel in a new hat.

Best of all, men can get that "new hat feeling" for a small investment. Next to handkerchief or necktie, your new hat is just about the smallest investment of your attire ... and yet is the most expensive looking of all!

This year there's an unusual collection of smart, newly styled hats to choose from for all occasions, so let's take time out to talk about a few of them:

Wear to business or for dress, the new narrower brim, center crease, tapered crown style. Universally becoming, this hat gives mature men a youthful appearance, and pleases younger wearers because it is never "too much hat!"

TAPERED CROWN

For afternoon spectator sports, wear a Tyrolean! Its deep, richly-colored, rough textures go very well with tweed sports jackets and slacks combinations. Conservative men prefer the modified Tyrolean. However, if you're a sports enthusiast like most men, you'll want to add to its already colorful rope band such decorations as miniatures of your favorite sports equipment.

If you're an active sportsman, your smart choice would be one of the jaunty, new caps.

For evening dress, if the new narrower brim, tapered crown style is not your dish, then there's no question as to your hat ... it's the Homburg! This long time favorite of business men and statesmen suits every head, face and weight; goes well with formal or business attire; stamps the wearer as a person of taste and discrimination.

So there you have the complete story, men ... three hats and a cap! The biggest bargain in your entire wardrobe, to go with everything in your wardrobe, yet comprising a sound investment in your appearance.

TYROLEAN

Proper headwear gives you that "new hat feeling" ... that feeling of self-confidence and sense of rightness which comes from looking your best for every occasion.

"BOWLING-ALLEY" FINISH NOW AVAILABLE FOR HOME USE

A new product called 'FABULON' the 'twin' of a famous bowling-alley finish, is now on the market for home owners. Housewives at last have the opportunity to finish their floors with all the beauty and durability of an expensive bowling alley. Surprisingly, FABULON costs no more than ordinary 'best' finishes and it is easy to apply.

Appearance and long-life are but two of the many features of the new product. For FABULON is highly resistant to water, skidding and chipping, as well as to stains from liquor and other causes. Dirt doesn't grind into its tough surface, so it's easily cleaned with a dust mop or damp cloth. It never requires hard scrubbing to clean or wax to protect. Hours of cleaning time are saved. FABULON is not a shellac, not a varnish, not a glorified polish. It's a fabulous full-bodied, brush-applied, transparent protective coating for wood floors and linoleum. Hundreds of housewives have tried FABULON on their kitchen linoleum ... liked it so much they also used it to protect all the wood floors throughout their homes. Try a quart of FABULON on your kitchen linoleum. When you visit your dealer ask him how to resurface your wood floors like new in one day.

No chore to refinish floors. Remove the old finish the fast and easy way ... with PRONTO ... then apply two coats of FABULON the same day ... use your floors the very next day.

DIAL LOWELL 7106

It seems to many experienced newspaper men that Washington could stand many more women in the press corps. Washington is a woman's town. The wives of the government are tireless mixers and politics are easy for them. Women reporters can dig up more secrets than most men because women in the political scene never regard confidences as sacred.

These jet-propelled secrets invariably reach the ears of women reporters before the male correspondents are aware of them. One individual made a good thing out of a tipster service by reading the blurbs of the society reporters and rewriting them into readable news.

The top woman columnist is Doris Fleeson, one-time N. Y. News reporter who learned reporting in competition with some very ungallant men and came up the hard way. She is generally a week ahead of the people she interviews and her questions sound like drops of water on a hot stove. She is most accurate in her reporting. Up to now she has been mothering the Democrats and has been dubbed the "Voice of Conscience" in official Washington.

There are many, and excellent, newswomen working in the town, especially Martha Kearney of the INS, who does a man-sized job at the White House or anywhere she is sent. Elizabeth May Craig, a correspondent of Maine papers, is noted for her hats. Lately she went to Korea. Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Jr., who writes under the name of Austine, is an excellent reporter in her own right, and she is also noted for her hats.

A woman who turns out a lot of copy for mid-western papers is Esther Van Wagoner Tuft, a Junoesque lady, seen everywhere. There are plenty of others, some excellent reporters, others incredible, but getting along nicely.

Miss Fleeson is a great success here because she learned the cardinal principles of reporting as a profession and never tried to attract attention by eccentricities. Most of the others are social climbers with a dab ability, and this absurdity is emphasized by the fact that about the only place one can climb socially in Washington is down.

If the newspapers of the country really wanted some news bits out of Washington they could send trained women reporters here to good advantage. Women like the excitement of hanging around big shots, whereas the men just sneer and walk off. Then considered necessary "just to keep in touch." Another advantage for a personable woman is that some of the ramshackle Senators have a dog-like devotion to a pretty calf, and while thus transfixed might say things on the record. This school of reporting is supposed to have gone out with the Graphic, but hasn't.

The rise of the Bureaus in the government has been the death knell of some good reporting. A bureau is organized like a private business enterprise and is concerned with getting its accomplishments out to the public, and none of its mistakes and omissions. In this it is no different from any other human organization. Why reporters should expect bureaucrats to confess their inadequacies and sins to Johnny Jones of the AP is beyond comprehension.

The day that a department stops giving the reporters handouts is the day that these reporters and their employers will be in deep trouble. The government subsidizes the newspapers to the tune of many millions per year to give out conventional news. To do this the departments employ some excellent newspapermen.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY

We have learned, through the usually reliable grapevine, that some of Wilmington's business men have discovered how to make money. It seems that, after the weekly lunch and get-together, some of the boys decided that a day at the races ought to be worth while, and a party was organized for the afternoon of October 10th.

Now, in a story of this kind, we ordinarily do not like to report names, there being several good reasons why names should not be so listed, one of them being, of course, that most wives feel that they are, by custom, entitled to 100% of any winnings at horse races and other such sports. We shall have to deviate slightly, this time, and at least hint as to one of the persons. He is a Greek gentleman, who has a tailoring establishment somewhere within 50 miles of Wilmington.

When the boys had arrived at the track, there was the usual to-do about which horse was going to win the race.

George, however, had no doubts. His system was perfect. He simply was perfect. He simply measured the length of the horse's tail, divided this by the length of his shoe, and multiplied the answer by the number of stitches in a yard of cloth. The answer was always infallible.

It's a fact, ladies and gentlemen. Every single man who went to that race bet after consulting George, and his system, and every single man won. We have heard of one man who won $150 or more, and several who made better than $100.

George—well, he won too, but his was the lowest of all, according to what our reporter tells us. He did win, but not by his own system. For himself he had to use the well known method of closing the eyes, and sticking a needle into the program.

order. The pole was cracked, and the fender to the car dented. The car was towed to Gildart's garage.
